Ulrich Schielein

Vice President, Goethe University Frankfurt
Digitalization

Ulrich Schielein became Goethe University Frankfurt's Chief Information Officer and full-time member of its Executive Board responsible for all IT & digitalization issues in May 2022. He holds degrees in public administration as well as in business informatics.

Before joining Goethe University, Ulrich Schielein was employed by Germany's Federal Employment Agency, among others, where he worked on computer-based education and training. He also spent many years as an international consultant working for public and private companies in the field of IT and strategy consulting, in the course of which he was able to advance digital transformation and establish new forms of work. Ulrich Schielein intends to draw on his nearly thirty years of professional experience to help advance Goethe University Frankfurt's digitalization.
